

Planting Syamindra Teak Sapplings.

This is a new project that we are happy to have the opportunity to share with you. The project started out with H.M.the King's initiation in order primarily to cope with the destruction of forest.

Our temple is guided with the policy of being engaged Buddhists, we are not concerned only with human beings but also the wellbeing of our environment.

We, members of Songdhammakalyani temple together with The Plant magazine (by Dr Kanjana Suthikul) intend to support the Royal initiated project by purchasing the saplings and getting the saplings out to the actual area to be planted.

The Royal project will have individual code so that they can follow the growth of each sapling. They would like to try out planting the saplings in different locations to study and find out the most appropriate type of soil and temperature where the sapling will grow best.

From the interest of our temple, we would like to engage in this project to strengthen our own commitment to goodness, beauty and truth.

On the one hand we are assisting the royal project to bring back the forest and in that process of merit making we would like to offer the merit as an offering to our beloved H.M. the King.

The process of buying the saplings and bringing out to plant them is the process of our own spiritual practice to let go of clinging to I, me, my, mine which is the root cause of suffering.

Come be part of this project. The sapling is B184 each,

Help us buy the saplings and better still join us to go out and plant them.
